

Marta Martínez-Vázquez (FIEEE, 2017) was born in Santiago de Compostela, Spain, in 1973. She obtained her MSc. and PhD. degrees in Telecommunication Engineering from the Universidad Politécnica de Valencia, Spain, in 1997 and 2003, respectively. In 2000 she joined the Antennas and EM Modelling department of IMST GmbH in Germany, where she works now as a senior engineer and project manager.

Her research interests include the design and applications of antennas for mobile devices, array antennas, sensors, and RF systems.

Dr. Martínez-Vázquez is currently a member of the IEEE AP-S Education Committee and the IEEE AP-S Distinguished Lecturers Committee. She is a former vice-chair of the European Association of Antennas and Propagation (EurAAP) and a former member of the Administrative Committee of the IEEE Antennas & Propagation Society. She has served as a Distinguished Lecturer for the IEEE AP-S. She has been the chair of the COST IC1102 Action “Versatile, Integrated and Signal-aware Technologies for Antennas (VISTA) and the vice-chair of the COST IC0603 Action “Antenna Sensors and Systems for Information Society Technologies.” Previously, she was a member of the Executive Board of the ACE (Antennas Centre of Excellence) Network of Excellence and the leader of its small antennas activity.

She is currently a feature Editor of the IEEE Antennas & Propagation Magazine and an Associate Editor of the IET Microwaves, Antennas & Propagation Journal. She has over 90 publications, including books, book chapters, journal and conference papers and patents.

Dr. Martínez-Vázquez has been awarded the 2004 Best Ph.D. award of the Universidad Politécnica de Valencia and the 2013 IEEE AP-S Lot Shafai Mid-Career Distinguished Achievement Award.
